DICTOGRAPH EVIDENCE

Officials Go to Washington With Evidence Concerning Alleged Operations Aimed Against Canada.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Boston, Feb. 9.—Federal authorities
were engaged today with reports that Boston was being used by German sympatizers as a base for direction of hostile activities in Canada.Reports of this character have been current for a long time, but lack of official confirmation. Today for the first time it was admitted by a government
employee that typewritten copies were made of dictaphone reports alleged to have been obtained at a meeting of men under suspicion.

Officials Called to Capital.

This admission was coupled with the assurance that it would be denied if
the identity of the author was made public. George W. Anderson, United States district attorney, went to Washington on Monday. Yesterday Edmund
Williams, collector of the port, followed Anderson to the capital. Their local officers would not disclose the nature
of their mission.According to the reports which led to the admission regarding the dicta-graph reports, the movements of about one hundred men have been watched with the result that a dictograph was secured in a Mr. Street office to determine if any of these men were conspiring to commit or influence the commission of acts of war against Canada.

Uncover Plot in Montreal.

Montreal, Feb. 9.—Information received by the police that the city hall
was to be blown up at 1230 o'clock today spread alarm throughout the city
this morning and caused the hurried
return from Quebec of Mayor Martin.
The police were relieved when the
hour passed without any incident.PLUMBING DISTRICTS
ARE MADE IN STATEMore Efficient Control of Conditions
Now Possible With Organization
Complete.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—Following
the recent appointment of the two additional assistant state plumbing inspectors, the state has been divided into three districts for more efficient inspection service. It is likely that Assistant Inspector John E. Owens of Racine will be stationed at the third district to serve the southern portion of the state; that Assistant Inspector Robert H. Haskins of Milwaukee will serve the eastern part of the state, with the Assistant Inspector Eugene Morse of Green Bay will be in the western district. The state plumbing inspection is being carried on by the three inspectors, who are stationed at Madison, will serve the state as a whole
and supervise the work as the state board of health may direct.More efficient and prompt service
and less loss of time in traveling expense are sought by this rearrangement. The need of more thorough inspection throughout the state has long been recognized. The territory is such that the largest part of the work
of the inspectors are met by the license fees paid by plumbers. No part of it is paid from the state funds.In dividing the state into three districts, arbitrary limits for each will be imposed. Thus whenever prompt service requires it, an inspector from any district may be called.The law requires that the first second and third classes to provide for local inspection. Where local inspection is not provided, the state inspector will make such inspections of plumbing as may be necessary. Requests for state inspection and for aid in designing or constructing water supply or sewage disposal systems are required to be sent to the plumbing division of the state board of health, Madison. Orders are issued only by the state office, based upon the findings and recommendations of the field men. The essential facts about the situation at the time of the request for assistance. A rough pen-sketch is usually preferable.The state plumbing code was amended at last meeting to make some provisions for the understanding of the plumbing profession. This was especially needed relative to the rules
on sewage disposal. Copies of the new edition will be mailed to all plumbers whose names are known to the department.ANNUAL SPRING FAIR STAGED IN LEIPSIG MARCH 6Leipzig, Feb. 9.—The opening of the annual spring business fair or "Messe"
in peace times one of the biggest in-festivals of its kind in Europe, has been set for Monday, March 6, this year. The number of exhibitors fell from 4,000 to 2,500 because of the war. This year's prospect but the number will be more nearly normal than in 1915.
Already the fair has assured a large
material ware, wood, paper, leather, rubber, basketware and toys. The peacetime exhibitors from Russia, France
and England as well as the buyers
from these countries, will again be missing, of course, but it is anticipated
that they will in part at least be replaced by Germans.The authorities are arranging to facilitate as far as possible the free movements of all who wish to go to the fair, so that exhibitors, buyers and
others shall have a minimum of difficulty about passes, which now are necessary for everyone who travels in Germany.DESTITUTE FLOOD

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 9.—Relief
work among refugees from the flood
with supplies left here to distribute food and fuel among 2000 or more des-
tute persons at Mendleton, Red Fork, Douglas, Watson and other towns in the inundated belt between Arkansas

various levee boards.In Arkansas City, few merchants
are conducting business from second stories of their stores, and from box
cars on the levee.Relief reached 200 or more refugees at Gaines Landing, yesterday
north of Lake Village. Residents continued to desert Clarendon which was inundated to a depth of from four to seven feet when the levee broke last Saturday. Only about 300 persons remain there today.The flood's death toll increased to seventeen by drowning last night and
remained at that figure today.BRITISH FREIGHTER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Feb. 9.—Captain J. Mitchell of the British freighter Canadian,
which arrived here today, reported the
story brought here some days ago
by the steamer Guiana of the holding up of the Canadian off Martinique, by the French cruiser Desca.Captain Mitchell said five shots
were fired at his vessel by the cruiser,
two of which struck the pilot house.
The Canadian is building something on the line of a torpedo boat. Captain Mitchell said he believed the Desca
mistook her for an enemy warship.
After an officer from the cruiser exam-

New York, Feb. 9.—Solution of the mystery of the murder in November, 1914, of Ernest Barf, an independent
poultry dealer, who had been fighting
the so-called chicken trust, was announced by the police today with the arrest of Frank Ferrera, a plumber,
on the charge of homicide.According to the police, Ferrera
confessed to participation in the crime
and gave the names of the men who killed the murderer, of those who furnished the money to pay them, and
of the gunmen who, from an automobile, shot Barf down after he left his

CITY THAN TO BUILD IT

DISCOVER THE GERMANS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Feb. 9.—Bombardment by German long range 15-inch guns has a greater moral than material effect on the townsfolk, writes a correspondent from France. This is due to the great amount of waste space in towns, for a shell has just as much of a chance of hitting a vacant lot as
it has of hitting a house, themselves,
in the opinion of the writer, know how
little material damage their shells do,
for after shelling these towns, they
generally follow up with an air raid.
But they know the Germans are due
to come in with more than required
number of signatures to have the $700,000 bonding issue voted on at the April election.The main drawback of these bombardments of open towns is, from the German point of view, their expense.
These great shells run in prices up to several thousand dollars each.One lesson of the war is that it costs more to destroy a village than to build it. At one point the Germans sawed a viaduct to pieces with 17-inch and 8-inch howitzers. This cost them nearly sixty giant shells, and countless 9-inch shells, to say nothing of a rain from field guns. The viaduct cost $70,000 to build. French troops were caused of his death.BELOIT MAN DROPS DEAD

INSTALLED TODAYNew Archbishop of Chicago and Metropolitan of Province of Illinois Installed in Pompous Ceremony.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Feb. 9.—The Most Rev.
George W. Mundelein, D. D., was installed as the Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago and metropolitan of the province of Illinois here today
with elaborate ceremonies in Holy Name cathedral. He is the third holder of the office his predecessors having been Patrick A. Feehan, who died
late in 1902, and James E. Quigley, whose death occurred late last summer.The Most Rev. John Bonzano, delegate from the Vatican, to Washington
officiated at the ceremony, aided by the Most Rev. Charles E. McConnel, bishop of Brooklyn, by whom Archbishop Mundelein was ordained into the priesthood, and scores of other clergymen.Archbishop Mundelein arrived in Chicago yesterday from Brooklyn, escorted from that city by a delegation
of 70 officials of the Chicago diocese.
He was escorted by the archdiocese since
his arrival in Chicago from his residence in the Vatican, but because of a
possibility of bad weather no arrangements were made for a lengthy or elaborate procession. The ceremony of
installation, however, was marked
with pomp.At the door of the cathedral Archbishop Mundelein was met by Rt. Rev.
M. J. Fitzsimmons, who has been administering the archdiocese since Archbishop Quigley's death. Followed by bishops from dioceses throughout the country—about fifty in all—and other clergymen, Archbishop Mundelein entered the cathedral, where he was received by the archdiocese since
his arrival in Chicago from his residence in the Vatican, but because of a
possibility of bad weather no arrange-
ments were made for a lengthy or elaborate procession. The ceremony of
installation, however, was marked
with pomp.Addresses by the apostolic delegate, Father Fitzsimmons, and by John A.
Ward, one of the lay leaders of the church in Chicago, were followed by the reading of the papal bulls proclaiming the appointment of Father
Mundelein as archbishop.The 800 clergymen of the Chicago
diocese, present in the cathedral, proceeded to the throne of Archbishop Mundelein and kneeling made their act of obedience, each kissing his ring.Solemn pontifical high mass, celebrated by Monsignor Bonzano, assisted by the Very Reverend Mr. Fitzsimmons
with Reverend F. O'Brien as deacon of the mass, Rev. David McDonald as sacristan and Dr. J. J. Dunne as master of ceremonies. The musical service was provided by selected organists of Chicago churches and the Catholic College boys, under the direction of Monsignor Benjamin Wortman, organist at Holy Name.Archbishop Mundelein then was vested with full pontificals and proceeding to the altar, knelt before the apostolic delegate and took the oath of office. He then read the papal bull, emblematic of his office of Archbishop, closing the ceremony.Because Holy Name cathedral seats
only 1,200 it was necessary to provide tickets for admittance. The number of visiting clergy and officials of the diocese who took part in the installation made it impossible for any considerable number of visitors to witness
the ceremony, yet crowds gathered outside the structure. Squads of police were detailed to prevent crushes at the door.Archbishop Mundelein, who is 43
years old, is the youngest priest ever
to be entrusted with an archdiocese of the importance of Chicago. He was theological professor at the Propaganda College in Rome in 1890 and was ordained into the priesthood in 1895.In 1906 Pope Pius designated Archbishop Mundelein as apostolic delegate,
bringing to him the titles of right reverend and monsignor. In 1907 he was elected a member of the "Sacred Academy of Arcadia"—the only man in the United States upon whom this honor ever was conferred. In 1909 the honorary title of Bishop of Loryma
was made auxiliary bishop of Brooklyn.Archbishop Mundelein, besides being learned in ecclesiastical lore, is a linguist. His knowledge of foreign languages making his work in parishes
in Europe most effective.EIGHT DISTRICTS
NAMED DELEGATESFIRST, SEVENTH AND ELEVENTH

WILL MEET IN APRIL

To Enforce a Republican Candidate
for the United States Senator Nomination at the September Primaries.Republicans in eight of the eleven congressional districts of the state
have named their ten delegates to represent the voters of their respective districts at the convention of a hundred and ten which will endorse a republican candidate for the United States senatorial nomination to be voted on at the coming September primaries.The first, seventh and eleventh are the three missing districts. In view of the fact that the first district has tentatively two candidates for the endorsement in the persons of former State Senator John M. Whitehead and M. G. Jeffris, the complexion of the coming convention will be watched
with interest.The eighth district, it is expected,
will vote solidly for former State Senator Kreutzer, as this is his home district and he was endorsed at a county convention held at Vansau recently.The eleventh is the home district of former State Senator Hudnall, whose name has been mentioned in this connection, as well as that of Congressman Leopold, who has also been talked of. Thus far Whitehead, Kreutzer and Jeffris are the only names that have been seriously considered.The calling of a convention, or arrangements for selecting the delegation of ten to represent the first congressional district has been left in the hands of the two republican state
central committees, Charles Sumner of Delavan and George B. Harris of Waukesha. While they have made no official decision as yet, it is understood that they are considering a plan
which each of the five counties in this district should have two delegates, each selected at a county convention in each county.The five counties that comprise this district are the following: Racine, Wakesha, Walworth, Racine and Kenosha. At the recent state republican convention held in Madison January 22nd, the district delegation present, numbering at one time over two hundred delegates with badges on, seated on the convention floor.When this vote came on the question
whether the endorsement of a senatorial candidate came up for a vote
the entire delegation voted as a unit in

FOODS THEY BUILD OR DESTROY

Amazing but rarely suspected truths about the things you eat.

By ALFRED W. McCANN (Copyright, 1916, by Alfred W. McCann.)

CHAPTER 14.

"Dust thou art, and unto dust thou shalt return" is a law of life, not a symbol of death.

Dr. Slade, continuing his comments upon the disturbing results of the health of the employees of the New York City Department of Health, said:

"The last ten years have recorded a steady reduction in the general death rate in all ages under forty years; but there has been a simultaneous increase in the death rate between forty and sixty years, due largely to digestive, circulatory, and kidney diseases."

"Our investigation shows that the reason for this is the plan now begun by the New York City Department of Health in safety work for the health of its employees would add several years to the life of the average individual."

"Furthermore, in view of the surprising increase in the adult death rate, it would add to the most efficient years of life."

"It is that all these infirmities lower efficiency, and for this reason public school boards are ordering operations upon some children's throats, are removing adenoids, are doing dental work, providing nurses, furnishing meals at cost price for others. A few of them are sending cards of instruction on hygiene and diet to parents. The charge for all these services is borne by the community."

"If the work were not done under school direction it apparently would not be done at all. The state in these instances exercises vast and beneficent powers in the regulation of public health and education."

"The great question is: 'Why does not the state make an attempt to get at the real cause of these diseases and instruct the people how to remove the cause?'"

"It is the purpose of these words to set down in unvarnished speech a number of reasons that lead to disease, diet, ignorance, or disregard of which can end only in disease. Our object is to put in plain form the principles of life so that they may be understood and heeded by parent and child."

"If it can be said that the home is the cradle of the nation, it can be said more truthfully that the pantry is the cradle of the home."

Facts will be revealed to you here concerning the nation's crimes against its wheat, corn, rice, barley, and rye; against its biscuits, crackers, cakes, and breadstuffs; against its milk, butter, eggs, meat products, poultry, and fish; against its molasses, condiments, confectionery, candies, and preserves; against its hundreds of foods the integrity of which is never suspected. Yet nothing will be destroyed without the corresponding work of construction.

"We will tear nothing down without building up. With this promise we are now ready to devote a few words to a description of the building of a human body out of its food supply. By carefully following this description you will prepare yourself for a complete grasp of all that comes hereafter, including the subject of 'How to Feed the Child.'"

"That because it is in reality the summing up and interpretation of the hundred truths that must be understood thoroughly before intelligent provision for the child's food needs becomes possible."

"Man has not probed into the real meaning of the words, 'Dust thou art, and unto dust thou shalt return.' His knowledge of the first law of life is closer, he may find a subtler meaning than the one ordinarily given by him to the declaration of God to Adam."

"Man may find that those words represent a law of life, not a law of death, as he had thought."

"Let us look at the soil from which we have sprung. If we take a handful of fertile earth into the laboratory and split it up we find it to be composed chiefly of some sixteen elements."

"If we take next a measure of milk, an egg, a handful of wheat or corn, barley, oats or rye, again we find the very same sixteen elements. This is indeed the clue to the riddle of life."

"There is no creature alive today on the face of this planet whose body does not contain these sixteen substances are present as the result of no accident."

"The consistency with which they appear and the consistency with which they are found in certain proportions in this or that food reveal the operation of a fixed law."

"These substances or elements are oxygen, nitrogen, hydrogen, carbon, chlorine, fluorine, iron, phosphorus, calcium, potassium, magnesium, manganese, sodium, sulphur, silicon, iodine."

"The body obtains them for its needs through the medium of food, and through food alone. This is the heart of the exposure we have undertaken. Even the indifferent and the skeptical will see in it some relationship to the deaths of nearly 400,000 children under ten years of age in the United States every year."

ROCK COUNTY COWS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Report for First Month for Cow Testing Association Shows Eight Animals With Good Records

The Rock county cow testing association which was recently organized can boast of eight cows which have made records of over forty pounds of butter fat, according to the record sheet for the month which was recently closed. Tests were made under the direction of J. D. Feinberg of Milwaukee, official tester.

An Ayrshire cow owned by W. D. Austin, residing west of this city, has the highest butter fat record for the month giving 818 pounds of six per cent test and 65 pounds of butter fat. Following is the statement of the eight highest cows for the month of December:

Lady Mayflower No. 22, Shorthorn, owned by H. H. Little, age 8 years; 1,238 pounds of milk; 3.7 per cent butter fat; 46.8 pounds butter fat; fresh Nov. 8, 1915.

Janeville Rose No. 55, Shorthorn, owned by H. H. Little, age 6 years; 1,226 pounds of milk; 4 per cent butter fat; 49 pounds of butter fat; fresh Nov. 23, 1915.

Lilly Clay 4th, Shorthorn, owned by H. H. Little, age 7 years; 987 pounds of milk; 4.8 per cent butter fat; 47.3 pounds butter fat; fresh Oct. 5.

Corinne Pender 2nd, Ayrshire, owned by W. D. Austin, age 5 years; 918 pounds of milk; 6 per cent butter fat; 56 pounds butter fat; fresh Nov. 22.

Blossom, grade Holstein, owned by E. P. Coon, age 6 years; 936 pounds of milk; 4.2 per cent butter fat; 40.1 pounds butter fat; fresh Oct. 18.

Bessie, grade Holstein, owned by Laurer Bros., age 4 years; 1,230 pounds of milk; 3.4 per cent test; 41.8 pounds of butter fat; fresh Nov. 5.

Davy, grade Shorthorn, owned by Ralph Quart, age 13 years; 1,071 pounds of milk; 4.8 per cent test; 49.2 pounds butter fat; fresh Oct. 2.

Madge, grade Durham, owned by J. B. Palmer, age 7 years; 1,134 pounds of milk; 4.4 per cent test; 44.5 pounds butter fat; fresh, Dec. 2.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Martha Wolff and son, Fred, of Janesville, were in Orfordville on Tuesday. They came by automobile.

Frank Purdy went to Albany on Tuesday to attend the auction sale of blooded hogs, conducted by William Smiley & Son.

Ray Possum received taxes for the town of Plymouth on Monday instead of his brother, Norman, who is ill with the mumps.

A car load of soft coal was received by the creamery, and was unloaded at the local siding on Tuesday.

Ben Hanson's sale of Brown Swiss cattle which was held at his farm in the town of Plymouth on Tuesday that good prices prevailed.

More tobacco was received again on Tuesday. The farmers seem to be anxious to get the crop off from their hands even at the low price prevailing this year.

LOWER WISCONSIN TEACHERS IN SESSION AT CAPITOL CITY

Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—The southern Wisconsin teachers opened their convention in the high school here today with an address by Superintendent C. F. Gary.

Meeting this morning were: Inspector W. H. Hunt, H. M. Goddard, all of the state superintendent's department. Much of the program is devoted to a discussion of rural school work.

Year's heating shows big saving

The illustration shows a comparison of expenses and savings; but no picture can show or do justice to the every-day satisfaction, comfort and conveniences that your wife and family will enjoy throughout chill Fall, cold Winter and raw Spring by putting into your home an outfit of

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

With IDEAL-AMERICAN Radiator heating your home is warm and your family is healthfully protected—there's no fear of fire, coal-gas, drafts, or uneven temperatures. This heating is guaranteed without coaxing or poking, without fuss or muss, to warm faithfully and genially all the rooms—throughout days and nights of fog, chill, snow, sleet or blizzard—and their fuel savings pay for the outfit!

Heat that reduces living costs

All other methods mean heating by caprice—hit or miss—you are at the mercy of winds which chill exposed rooms and also draw up the chimney more than half the heat of the burning fuel. IDEAL-AMERICAN outfits give you regulated, reliable heating, whereby every bit of the available heat of the burning fuel is delivered to the rooms in exactly the volume needed to keep the house at the precise degree you prefer. Each purchase of coal thus becomes an evidence of satisfaction—a record of comfort and common-sense housekeeping!

In remodeling or refitting old buildings, IDEAL heating can be installed just as easily as in new ones without disturbance, tearing up or noise.

Send today for copy of our (free) book "Ideal Heating." A postal will bring it. We will welcome you personally at any of our show rooms where you can inspect at your leisure all styles and kinds of IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators without being pressed to purchase.

A No. 4-20-W IDEAL Boiler and 250 ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $150, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. The cost includes cost of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., while good according to climatic and other conditions.

Another great labor-saver—stationary Vacuum Cleaner, at $150

You can wonderfully reduce house-labor and highly increase home health and cleanliness by use of ARCO-WAND Vacuum Cleaner—sits in basement or side room; works through iron pipe running to all floors; carries all dirt, dust, insects and their eggs, etc.; to sealed bucket in machine; cleans carpets, furnishings, walls, ceilings, clothing. Ask also for new "ARCO-WAND" catalog (free). Inquiry puts you under no obligations to buy.

Sold by all dealers. No exclusive agents.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair and colder tonight; Thursday increasing clouds; rising temperature.

FIRE DRILLS.

In view of the fact that this is a period of the year when so many buildings are either mysteriously fired or combustion occurs at unexpected times it might perhaps be wise not to include the fire drills to the schools alone, but to all commercial institutions where there is any hazard. The Milwaukee Daily News, in speaking of the question, says that "effectiveness of the fire drill was recently proved in a school where the building was really on fire but the pupils thought it was only a drill. This shows what can be accomplished under order and system when everyone remains calm. There are some things of which to complain in school affairs but the fire drill is not one of them. It is to be commended and pupils should be drilled so that they would leave their rooms and the building in the dark or in the thickest smoke. Not only should such training be thorough and effective but occasional talks should be given pupils on subjects related to fires in homes."

"Such training, the knowledge of exits and the exercise of self-control would have a tendency to avoid panics which occur in crowded buildings when an alarm is sounded. The terrible fires which have occurred recently where many lives were lost emphasize the necessity for action before it becomes necessary again to deplore the lack of system or method to vacate a building quickly when fire makes it necessary."

"The lessons learned from the disastrous fires in schools and factories have put fire officials on their guard and firemen are now very careful in the examination of buildings as regards exits, hose attachments, inflammable material and obstructed passageways. Following the St. John school fire at Peabody, Mass., Oct. 23, where twenty-one lives were lost, there was a general examination of school buildings and prompt recommendations were made to remedy the conditions which might result in a great loss of life in case of fire. It is presumed that the changes have been made and that every avenue is open for escape should it become necessary for pupils to get out of any building quickly."

Our local schools have been recently inspected but no material changes have been enacted in interior construction, so let us provide what precaution we can and have well executed fire drills.

IS IT A BLUNDER?

Secretary Daniels has just placed a contract for shoes which indicates that when it comes to carrying Missouri for the democrats and re-electing Senator Jim Reed, neither the interests of the navy nor those of the people are of slightest moment. On December 10th Secretary Daniels officially announced that the navy needed 100,000 pairs of shoes and called for bids. Bids were permitted to bid on the whole number or on lots of 25,000, 50,000 and 75,000, as well as on 100,000. The bids were opened January 11th and it was found that a Massachusetts firm was low bidder on 100,000 but that a Missouri firm was low on 50,000. Accordingly, Daniels announced that it was found that the navy needed only 50,000 shoes and the order was given to the Missouri firm. Those who recall the anguish with which Champ Clark and other Missourians insisted that "You must send the democratic national convention to St. Louis if you would save Missouri and re-elect Jim Reed" will clearly understand why Daniels was so anxious to send to that state this shoe contract, despite the criticism it was certain to bring down upon the administration.

SKIMMING NEWSPAPERS.
Some interesting results are being reported of tests given college students about facts connected with the war in Europe. These tests generally relate to facts that every reader of the war news should be pretty familiar with. Yet the students seem able to answer scarcely half these questions. Many business men and others have tried their hand at them, and can answer even less.

This is the result of the common habit of merely reading headlines. Most persons will read thoroughly only what immediately affects them. The business man reads the advertising. Also almost everyone reads the local news of their own locality. But when it comes to following the news of the war, congress, national politics, Mexico, etc., it is surprising how even intelligent people do skip over it. A hasty glance at the headlines, and opening paragraphs and they pass on to other things. No doubt that is the result of the surfeit of reading offered in our modern life. But it is a wonderfully dramatic story that is being told today, in the newspapers, and no one ever lived at a more thrilling period. Every word the newspapers print is worth attention.

MEN TEACHERS.

The annual report of the commissioner of education of Massachusetts deprecates the scarcity of men teachers. Normal schools for men are suggested to encourage men to go into teaching. This condition is not confined to Massachusetts. It is about the same everywhere as far as the lower school grades are concerned. All educators deplore this tendency. What can school boards do? A highly competent woman teacher can be secured for $500 to $700 a year. Many gifted women are teaching for less than that, though it is not a business proposition if they have to pay board bills. But few men teachers want to try to support a family on $500 to $700 a year. There are still a few places which realize the value of men-teachers in lower graded work. They sometimes pay the sufficient salary of $1,000, which keeps an ambitious young fellow until he can get a job in a high school or college.

The man teacher does acquire an influence that few women ever gain. They may be superior in no way to their women colleagues. But they do get a grip on the mind of the boy.

When a youngster reaches the age of youth and love, scents his handkerchief and studies the harmony of his neckties, he has plenty of respect for womanhood. But in the previous period, say from 10 to 14, he looks at women as an inferior order of beings. Whatever graces or acquisitions they attain, they can not grasp the masculine point of view nor share in the joys of masculine experience. To the boys, the most gifted woman teacher is primarily an exponent of such wasteful and useless ideas as brushed hair, washed faces, and other notions of an effete civilization. The man teacher may be equally firm for good manners. But to the boy mind, he was once a boy, he knows, the boy point of view, and can lead and control the boy heart. But there will never be many more men teachers in our schools at the present level of salaries.

Will the meteorologist's please tell us what truth there is in the report that the gales which retarded the home voyage of the Ford peace pilgrims were caused by counter-currents rushing in to fill the vortices produced by the rising of great bodies of superheated atmosphere?

Evansville News

Evansville, Feb. 9.—The Woman's Literary club met Monday night with Mrs. T. C. Richardson. An unusually pleasant evening being resultant. As a surprise to the club, the social committee invited to assist them in introducing the characters in "The World" Mrs. Richardson gave a reading and complete analysis of Emerson's "Snow Storm" in a very pleasing manner. Refreshments concluded the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Courrier entertained thirty-five neighbors and friends at a farewell reception for Eugene Butts, who is moving from the farm where he has resided the past thirty-two years to a residence in this city, recently purchased by him. The evening was spent in cards and music. Mr. Knapp in behalf of all present, presented the guest of honor with a handsome rocker. Mr. Butts responding with a brief talk. Light refreshments were served and a pleasant time resultant.

Mrs. Roy Lee visited friends in Evansville yesterday. Eugene Butts is moving into the Albert North residence on Garfield avenue, recently purchased by him. Miss Mae Finn who is enjoying a six months leave of absence from her duties in E. M. Richmond's law office left Monday night for Roundup, Montana. During her absence Miss Lou Miller is substituting in the office.

Albert North is moving onto the Eugene Butts farm recently purchased by him. A. D. Bullard was a Janesville business visitor today. Miss Marion Calkins of Madison is spending a few days here at her parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Tilley have returned to Albany after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Luther Graham. Lay Allen loaded a car with his household goods, yesterday, and will remove same to South Dakota within a few days.

EDGERTON PARTNERS START CIVIL SUIT

E. W. Chamberlain Sues Mark Shackleton for Amount Alleged Due Him and One Other.

Partnership troubles of Polish and Peruvian, of stage fame, had nothing on E. W. Chamberlain of Edgerton, according to the complaint that has been filed in the municipal court here for the civil action suit of Chamberlain against Mark Shackleton, also of Edgerton. Attorneys in the case had the trial set over until February 17th, at ten o'clock and it is thought a jury will be called in to settle the issue.

In the complaint the troubles between Chamberlain and Shackleton are recorded down to detail. It is alleged that the plaintiff, Chamberlain, and the defendant, Shackleton, entered into a contract for "rendering" business to the city of Edgerton in May, 1915. According to the complaint the agreement was that Chamberlain was to receive one-half of the proceeds and the defendant, Shackleton, was to receive the other half. The defendant, however, failed to pay the plaintiff the amount due him. The plaintiff, therefore, demanded for him by the defendant, Shackleton, the sum of $250.

But that is not all. It is further alleged that Chamberlain alleged that at the request of Shackleton he furnished room and board to one Thomas for which the defendant was to pay, and it is claimed, did not. The reasonable amount due for the boarding of one Thomas is given as being $50 for six weeks' board.

Furthermore it is also alleged that the wages of one Gertrude Conway, who worked for the defendant, intermittently, were due here and there assigned all money due her from Shackleton to Chamberlain and a reasonable amount for her services is estimated at $100. All in all the judgment demanded by Chamberlain amounts to $415. The defendant's answer has not yet been filed.

ROD AND GUN CLUB TO MEET THURSDAY

Annual Meeting of Organization Will Be Held at the City Hall Tomorrow Evening.

All members of the Rock County Rod and Gun club have been furnished with a detailed annual report of the organization, which will hold its annual meeting at the assembly room of the city hall on Thursday night, Feb. 11, at eight o'clock. All persons interested in game and fish protection and propagation are urged to attend the meeting, as the club is anxious to continue the work undertaken when it was formed. Success has followed the efforts of the Rod and Gun club along many lines and the results from their work are just beginning to be realized. It will be proposed to change the name of the club from the Rod and Gun Club to that of the Rock County Game Protective Association, for it is declared that the present name is misleading as to the real intentions of the members. The name of Rod and Gun club, said President P. E. Green this morning, "conveys the idea that it is a hunting and fishing club or organization for the purpose of shooting and fishing, which is not true."

THE BLODGETT MILLING CO.

Millers of "Old Times" Buckwheat and Badger State Pancake Flour. Janesville, Wis.

The report sent out shows that the cash balance of the club at the end of 1915, was $39.72, and the amount received during the year was $125, making a total of $264.72. During the year there was paid out $120.95, leaving a balance of $143.77. The membership fee is one dollar and the amount is but nominal when the results of the club are considered carefully for future hunting and fishing.

During the year of 1915 there was distributed in the waters of Rock county, twenty-seven thousand brook trout fry; one million and a half pike fry, three thousand perch fingerlings and one thousand two hundred black bass fingerlings. Fish that were planted two and three years ago by the club are reported to be in excellent condition and will soon be large enough to be caught.

The club has 280 acres of land on a farm that has been set aside as a state reserve and at the present time they have 2,100 acres in one body that is posted with state signs against hunting. Pheasants that were released on the reserve are doing well and came through the winter in a satisfactory manner. It is the present plan of the club to obtain around two hundred dollars with which to obtain more pheasant eggs, and to fence five acres of land to protect the birds.

There has been a notable decrease in game violations during the past two years and the main reason for this is the sentiment caused by the Rod and Gun club in protecting game.

THE GOLDEN EAGLE LEVY'S SHOWING SPRING STYLES

New Dresses of Rare Charm

A sprightly quaintness characterizes the dresses for spring wear, and diversity is the keynote—if there is a keynote, for these early models distinctly show the costume elements from the French Louis, 1830, 1860, and even later, also ideas from the Russians. There are dresses here, not only for the matron and miss, but for the large and middle aged women who require dresses of special design. The materials, too, are unusually effective and lend themselves particularly well to the new modes.

Piquancy—Diversity In Spring Suits—Special Values at $15 and Upwards

The suits are in all the variations and combinations of the new weaves. The jackets are short and nearly all flare effect. We are showing the smartest of these semi-fitted and flare styles, also many newer belted models. The suit skirt shows more fullness than ever and is still quite short; pockets are favored on both jacket and skirt; novel collars and cuffs contribute much to the charm of the new modes.

IMPROVEMENT PLANS FOR CITY THIS YEAR

SCHEDULE OF THE WORK BEING MAPPED OUT AT THE PRESENT TIME.

PAVING ON 3 STREETS

Seek Early Bids to Obtain Better Contracts for Construction Work.—City's Share From Highway Fund.

Planning for the improvement work for the city of Janesville is now under way and in a few weeks the board of public works and the city commission will have a complete outline of the proposed work to be submitted to the public for approval and hearings. The early planning for the summer work is for the purpose of obtaining early bids for the contractors and at this season of the year far better prices can be obtained in the contracts than later in the summer or in the fall of the year.

It is the present plan of the city commissioners to pave about one mile and a half of streets with a permanent material of some kind. As compared to this, Beloit is going to pave a mile of streets with high priced material. It is to be seen that the paving expectations of the commission are most moderate. The proposed schedule is as follows: On Oakland avenue, a distance of seven blocks, on South Franklin street, a distance of eight blocks, on North Bluff street, from Court to point near the commercial line of railroad track near the gas house, a distance of seven blocks. Some form of repairs or paving are also considered for South Main street, where it is not paved with brick; Minor Point avenue and several streets that form the main arteries of travel from the country district, including the river roads.

Type of Pavements.
The type of pavement for the three streets has not been decided upon, the officials limiting themselves to open discussion. It is understood that brick concrete is favored for Franklin street, if favorable prices can be obtained.

On Oakland avenue concrete is said to be favored among the officials and the property owners who are in favor of this proposed paving. The subgrade is solid and well drained. Oakland avenue would furnish a most excellent street for introducing concrete.

In a table shown in the Municipal Journal for pavements laid in Wisconsin in 1915 the figures showed that more concrete was laid than nearly all other kinds put to use.

Last year the city commission voted to place concrete on Franklin street but because of the limited amount in the ward funds, the work was held in abeyance until next year. The street was in urgent need of permanent paving. On North Bluff street brick will probably be used in case it is not necessary to lay a concrete base, which adds to the expense of the paving to a high amount.

Repair Main Street.
Repairs will be necessary on South Main street this summer or spring as this one of the city's main streets and the macadam paving is almost worn out. It is the sentiment of the officials to make repairs with crushed stone and bind the crown with street oil, so as to save the city the expense of repaving. Several blocks of Mineral Point avenue are in bad condition and some repairs will be necessary.

At the present time the commissioners and board members are figuring on how far the new highway fund will go toward paying for the improvement of the city. The city is now paving the city streets with concrete and in cases of high priced pavements they have paid almost one-half and the property owners pay the other half. By paving Oakland avenue there will be almost a complete system of well paved streets in this district connecting with the thoroughfares in other parts which are laid last year so far have stood the best possible test, that of winter conditions and traffic, without showing any faulty signs. An inspection of them will be made as soon as the snow leaves the ground.

Drainage Sewers.
This year promises to be a big one for the city in construction work, as the proposed storm sewer on Glenn street will be built from North Bluff street to the river. The city is now striving to obtain the right to lay the proposed sewer underneath the railroad embankment to reach the river, which would prevent the additional expense of carrying the sewer out of a direct line. This job will be one of the biggest attempted by the city in some years and will supply an adequate outlet for all drainage water from the majority of the streets in the Second ward.

The Pleasant street sewer will be extended from its present ending place on Chatham street to North Pine street for surface water that collects in the low places at this point. A considerable grading will have to be done to raise the ground to afford a grade for the water to flow into the sewer connection. The experience with Pleasant street this winter clearly demonstrates the value of the city sewer that was put in there, as practically no flood or water damage has been done by this street. It will be a (this sewer) laid on North River street to keep drainage water from flowing into the roadway owned by the Blodgett Milling company. The city has received the water and are waiting for the river to lower and more favorable working weather.

On Magnolia avenue it will be necessary to dig a deeper ditch or construct an extension to the sewer. The present sewer may be extended to Oak avenue, as much damage was done to this street this winter because of the overflow of the flood water. On Oakland avenue the sewer will be extended from Main street to the present underground system of drainage. On Sharon street curb and gutter, it is said, will be necessary this year to keep water from overflowing the street.

Complete System.
With the construction of the storm sewers named, Janesville will have about as complete a drainage system as there is in any Wisconsin city. With what work that has been done in the last five or six years, the dangers from storm floods will be greatly decreased. The more curb and gutter that are built, the greater the need of storm sewers, as it is then necessary to afford the surface water quick and sufficient outlet.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF ALL FOOD SUPPLIES IN SUBURB OF BERLIN

By Associated Press.
Berlin, Feb. 9.—The big suburban city of Lichtenberg, a few miles from Berlin, whose population is almost exclusively drawn from the working classes, has during the past few months, been perfecting a system of municipal ownership of foodstuffs which is perhaps the most comprehensive in the world.

It has not only taken charge of and control over certain kinds of foods, as other municipalities have done, but it has become a salesman as well, has opened up its own stores and markets all over the city, has done much to keep prices down within reach of its inhabitants and yet has made enough profit to enable it to keep its stocks replenished.

Where it has been found inadvisable for the city to sell the food itself, it has been distributed through merchants who have been permitted to charge only a small profit and to make a profit no larger than the city itself would make.

The city now maintains four stores for the sale of meat, sausage, fats and other foodstuffs. The stores are located in the city, and the city has been able to add to the stores in a short time, as soon as the expected increased demand for potatoes comes along.

The city has been able to make advantageous contracts with packers for both meat and fats, and of late is selling daily to about 20,000 families. In addition to the stores, the city has been able to sell its foodstuffs through a network of small shops, such as was the case with the city of Lichtenberg, has procured substitutes of one kind or another.

It has in its storehouses now enough bacon to last into February, and by that time will have received 6,000 hogs that have been appraised to it by military authorities. A contract to slaughter them has already been awarded.

Of late the city has added to its stock by putting in rice, beans, peas and oat flakes by the hundredweight of selling them at a small margin of profit at its own stores. Last after Christmas the price of municipal eggs was four cents apiece as compared with eight to nine cents in other parts of Greater Germany, but now it has advanced to four and a half cents.

The city has just purchased an enormous quantity of potatoes, half of which is stored away, and the other half of which has been distributed among regular provision dealers to be sold at specified prices. The city has also sold huge amounts of fruits.

In addition to selling outright the things enumerated, Lichtenberg has supplied local merchants with great quantities of noodles, condensed milk, sardines, vegetables and macaroni which it has sold at wholesale prices, has been able to procure advantageously.

Announcement!

In order that a greater number of people may see how superior Triangle pictures are, we have reduced the price to 10c for all seats after noon and evening. You see a big five reel feature and a two reel comedy on each program. See Dorothy Gish tonight—Old Heidelberg.

Doctor Parlier of California, who has given the Milk Treatment to thousands says: "THE MILK DIET TREATMENT can be applied to Rheumatism with the greatest confidence in a successful outcome. I have never seen nor heard of a return of any manifestations of rheumatism in any one who has taken the Milk Cure."

There is no form of rheumatism, acute or chronic of bones or muscles, so far as I know, that cannot be treated successfully by the milk and rest treatment. I have treated several cases of rheumatoid arthritis with badly ankylized or stiffened joints and, to my surprise, at least to the patients recovered movement in joints which I had thought permanently lost. Professor Wier Mitchell also states that the milk and rest treatment will cure rheumatism. I am prepared to give this treatment.

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

OF DAISY DEAN

There will be two original scripts and one adapted play released during the month of February. They are "Out of the Drifts" and "Nearby a King," starring Marguerite Clark and John Barrymore respectively, and "Diplomacy," starring Marie Dorso.

The fact that the original stories are in the majority on this schedule further bears out the recent contention of Adolph Zukor, president of the company, that, though his organization at first devoted itself to the presentation of celebrated stars in adaptations of great plays, he is not prejudiced against the original story as a source of motion picture material. As he has formerly declared, he takes the position that the source of a story is entirely secondary to the question of its screen value.

PRETTIEST GIRL AT BALL GRABBED BY THE MOVIES.

Because she was the prettiest girl at the Boston movie ball, Sophie Sadowski jumped into fame and fortune in one night. Miss Sadowski was picked by a committee of five judges as the most beautiful girl present at the ball given by the Boston exhibitors. The prize was a motion picture career.

Half an hour after she had been chosen, Sophie Sadowski had received the professional name of "Doris Grey," and arrangements had been made for her adaptation as one of the stars of the company. Doris Grey is slender, with light hair and big brown eyes. She wears a simple dress and will be seen first in the forthcoming picture, "What Doris Did," based on her life story.

George Behan, who will soon be seen in a big feature is thinking of quitting motion picture work for something less hazardous, such as teaching dynamite. During the past three weeks he has been bitten by a bulldog, smashed over the head with a Japanese jar, butted by an irate ram, buried in the debris of an exploding freight steamer, slashed across the hand with a sabre, and thrown off the Palisades of the Hudson.

Seagrue was in no mood for joking. "One you shored me into," he retorted surlily. He curtly told his confederate what had occurred. Then he drew from his overcoat pocket Spike's handful of dough, showed it to Capelle and explained what it was. "Have a key made tonight from this impression; meet me here tomorrow with it."

The following afternoon Seagrue was again at the jail—this time, os-

In doing this he took occasion to lay his fingers on one of the bars of the cell door; as he said good morning the new key dropped from his hand inside the barred door. Spike's foot at once covered it. Moving on, Seagrue let fall from his arm one of the two dust coats which he was in reality carrying. Spike, dropping like a cat on his knees, whipped the fallen garment swiftly in between the bars, and while Seagrue and the jailer remained with Hyde, Spike made a rapid change of clothing. Slipping into the dust coat he found in one of the pockets a cap and a pair of goggles thoughtfully stowed. And

BADGER TONSORIAL SHOPS SHOW RAPID IMPROVEMENTS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—Sanitary conditions in Wisconsin barber shops as found by the state inspector during January show marked improvement. The inspector's report shows that shops in general have made great progress in this respect. One shop was closed for running without a license. No prosecutions were necessary during the month. In visiting 47 cities last month the inspector surveyed conditions in 239 shops.

The report says:

"The use of the styptic pencil and the shortage of sufficient clean linen still exist in many shops, and in a

Her maid, whom she told she could no longer keep, had gone in tears—and the country seat as well as the town house had been given over with furnishings to creditors. Triangle Pictures to be Shown for 10c.

The Princess announces tonight the reduction of prices for Triangle Pictures to 10c for matinee and night, effective starting tonight. This is rather unusual for this program is being shown elsewhere at the minimum price of 15c.

AT THE PRINCESS.

Dorothy Gish in "Old Heidelberg" Tonight.

Dorothy Gish, one of the most lovable little stars of the Griffith-Triangle Studio, together with Wallace Reid, Karl Formes, Raymond Wells, J. W. Robertson, Eric Stroheim and other excellent Griffith players, will be presented at the Princess tonight and Thursday in Chester B. Clapp's adaptation of the German student idyll, "Old Heidelberg." This is the play made famous in this country by the stellar appearances in it of Richard Mansfield and Aubrey Boucicault. In the original German it enjoyed extraordinary popularity on the other side, and that popularity has been duplicated here. The present screen version is in five parts. It was made under the direction of John Emerson, the well known stage star. It is said to show many significant touches of D. W. Griffith's personal supervision, particularly in the battle and mob scenes.

AT THE PRINCESS.

"Fickle Fatty's Fall."

Round, jovial Roscoe Arbuckle gets a comical role in "Fickle Fatty's Fall," the Triangle comic play due at the Princess tonight and Thursday. His hosts of admirers in previous Keystone plays will welcome with joy his appearance in this new comedy, which shows him in amusing complications with a wife and mother-in-law. This is a splashing, dashing comic picture of life on the coast, full of swimming and rescues of men and women who have been hurled into the water by runaway autos.

Arbuckle is no made up fat man. He is the real genuine fat man, weighing at present 265 pounds. In his extensive experience Arbuckle has played many parts. He has done singing and acrobatic stunts all over the country and has even broken into opera. He was at the first time he was filmed by the Keystone Studio in "The Gangsters."

AT MYERS THEATRE.

Fredrik, the Great, who will be at the Myers theatre three days, commencing Thursday, February 10, should give thanks that he is living in the present instead of in the past 30 years ago, else he might have attracted the attention of the "Witch Smell" old Matthew Hopkins and short would have been his life.

This is, unless he feared Hopkins and his co-laborers to death. The life story of Fredrik, the Great, is in itself a history of remarkable achievements in the conjurer's art. From the small beginning with a pack of cards as his sole assets, he now carries a company of ten people and a carload of special scenery and effects.

Fredrik, the Great, departed from the usual path trod by magicians and set for himself a high standard of perfection. This has been characteristic of his success, for he sought for the novelties for his creations and the most wonderful illusions. In the series of occult miracles he performs the mysteries of the Orient and Occident. The unseen powers do their master's bidding. It is said that the things Fredrik, the Great, does would convince almost anyone that the evil one had first mortgage upon his future salvation, were it not for his real and most pleasing characteristics. If it is wonder that people of all nationalities want to see this man and entertainer, who attracts by his mysterious performances thousands who rarely attend a theatre.

FREDRIK THE GREAT will be in the vicinity of the Myers hotel, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock, Thursday. The first twenty persons recognizing him will receive a ticket for the performance Thursday night.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"His Wife" Tonight.

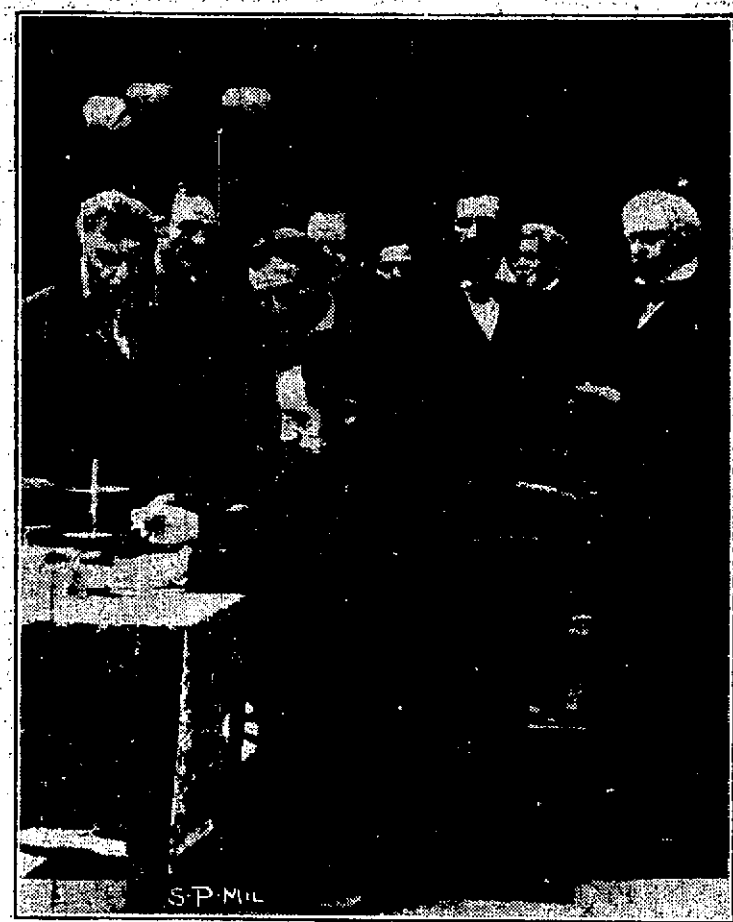

Said one of the impressionist critics present at the private showing of "His Wife": "It is just like a good, old-fashioned experience. The care shown in atmosphere and scenery can not be too highly commended—one scene in a jaunty cart looked as though it might have been taken in Ireland. His Wife is one of those stories dearly beloved by the matinee girl, one of those in which a poor girl of no change wins a wealthy young man. The story takes her to his home, and, of course, the question arises as to how far she shall be left to develop her own individuality. The indulgent husband finds an easy way by turning his crude, young wife over to the mercies of a former flame, a young lady secretly married to his erring brother."

AT MYERS THEATRE.

Honest Abe Did Not Turn a Deaf Ear to The Southern Mother.

The appeal to the "great heart" by a southern mother whose son is condemned to die as a spy, is one of the touching features of the "Birth of a Nation" spectacle and characteristically, too, of Lincoln's experiences of those days. The Ford's Theatre scene, including the assassination of the President, is of particular value since the reproduction of the interior of the old playhouse, including the scenic setting which was on the stage at the fatal moment, is as near exact as art and money could make possible.

The part covering the reconstruction period, sets forth vividly Lincoln's charitable policy toward the south, also the many difficult problems arising from the attempts of the white and black races to dwell together on politically equal terms.

Here it has been said some of the features are overdrawn, but possibly no more than necessity demanded to convey accurately and quickly to the people the impending dangers with which the southern people were called upon to cope. The necessity of educating the negro, recently a slave, is potentially evident.

U. OF W. GLEE CLUB COMING THIS MONTH.

Elks Lodge Bringing Musical Organization for Feb. 22.

"To fun and to frolic to student life we." A student's life is jolly. A student's life is free—

At that point in the opening ensemble number of the University of Wisconsin Glee club's program—to be given here on February 22nd—the Myers theatre—one of the men, dressed as a typical book grind, interrupts the singers with a protest. He claims that the man who wrote that song from the "Prince of Wales" never went to the University of Wisconsin. And the fun is on.

The university singers, with the mandolin club assisting, put on one of the latest, freshest, most entertaining programs which the Wisconsin Musical Club has ever attempted. The program was arranged by the president, Wallace Meyer, and has been warmly praised as an innovation which must become established at Wisconsin.

The curtain rises to disclose a quartet of instrumentalists, dressed for comfort, lazily strumming Hawaiian airs and presently a quartet of singers come in and the eight men give a couple of songs together in the "close harmony" fashion which college men enjoy so much when at their leisure. Then another quartet of stage serenaders, with "Stars of the

According to stories told by baseball men in the west, Charley Murphy and C. P. Taft, once owners of the Chicago Cubs, have come to the parting of the ways. Murphy is charged with openly criticizing his former partner, ever since the Cubs were sold to Charles Weeghman. Murphy is particularly sore, it is said, because the Cubs were taken away from him at the West Side grounds; they will play at the Red park on the North side in the future.

Marrying for Money

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

Her Husband's Sacrifice of His Property Means Nothing to Ortrude.

Even Ortrude Townsend herself felt that she was overreached for the simple neighborhood card party, but she had no place to wear the lovely clothes that she had spent so much time in purchasing. All the women had called on her and she had returned the calls with great state and formality, and in most cases the work of getting acquainted had halted right there. Her extravagant dressing and lofty airs prejudiced the women against her. Ortrude was horribly toneless and she realized that if she was to have any society she must make herself companionable. All the afternoon she had planned how she would try to make friends of these women who had such good things together.

"Do I look all right, J. C.?" she asked as she handed him the light wrap to lay over her shoulders.

"I am no judge of what is suitable for such an occasion, but I know you look very beautiful," he replied. She was very much pleased, for there had been a distinct falling off in the compliments paid her since the troublous days following their honeymoon and begun. Like most women, her beauty depended largely on expression, and she looked her best when she walked into the doctor's parlor.

Olive went with her to the bedroom to lay off her things and together they took a peep at the rosy baby in the crib.

"Is there anything more beautiful than a sleeping baby?" remarked Ortrude as they prepared to leave.

"Nothing but one that is wide awake and laughing," Olive looked compassionately at the woman who had no baby in her life.

The doctor and Mr. Townsend were alone in the living room when they entered Ortrude heard him say:

"It's a good property and I hope you'll decide to buy it. I would not sacrifice it at that price, but I simply must have the money."

Ortrude thought: "I suppose he is worrying about that machine that I bought. He's old-fashioned enough to think it's a dollar that he is going to be ruined. He would never make a plunge on the stock market," she thought scornfully.

To do her justice Ortrude thought her husband wealthy enough to stand all her extravagances. She believed he was timidly conservative about spending because he had always lived in a tiny village where people's wants were simple and therefore her large demands on his purse and needlessly frightened him. So she went calmly on her way thinking he would soon get used to her ways and adjust himself to the expense. Everybody called him a rich man, so there was some excuse for her attitude.

The evening was a very pleasant one. Ortrude shone and sparkled in society and her brilliant conversation did not keep her from playing a winning game. She and Dick Morton were partners several times and got on famously. The doctor and Jacob Townsend alone seemed depressed and absent-minded.

"That bride is a winner all right," commented Dick enthusiastically on the way to the door. "She is not half as bad as you women have painted her. Of course I am glad Townsend and not I am to foot the bills, but then he is rich; it will not hurt him to put a little money in circulation."

Do not think she would wait for him to assure her that he could afford to have her spend the money," said Nell coldly.

"Now, that was a witty remark. How you women like to scratch each other," exclaimed J. C. as he walked away. "It is a beauty." Dick's smile was unpleasant.

"Well, if Marian—" began Nell.

"Don't quote Marian," interrupted Dick. "She is a meddling busybody and the usages of society demand that there be war between the two."

Heart and Home PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters may be addressed to MRS. THOMPSON
in care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a girl of sixteen and have been going with a boy seventeen. He lives out of town. I have been writing to him for three years.

He goes to high school. I think a girl should not go to school, but he only writes to me once a month. Do you think he cares anything about me?

(2) When a girl writes to a boy should she say anything about another boy who is going with?

(3) Is it all right for girls to call boys over the telephone?

(4) Will you please tell me how to make the eyebrows thick?

(5) I must like you and enjoy your letters or he wouldn't write as often as once a month.

(6) As a rule she should not, but if she has something she thinks would be of interest to the boy it would be all right to mention another boy's name.

(7) Boys consider girls who telephone them a nuisance. In exceptional cases it is necessary for a girl to phone a boy, but unless it is necessary she should not do so.

(8) Red vaseline, five grams; boracic acid, ten centigrams. Make into a smooth paste and massage into the brows at night.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl twenty-one years old and am in love with a fine young man of twenty-five. This man is getting a divorce from his wife but it will take him from three to nine months before he will be entirely free from her. It has been two years since he has lived with her and there is no doubt but what he will get an absolute divorce.

as he has the best of grounds. He treats me very nicely and highly respects me, but my people think I do wrong by accepting his attentions and going with him. I want your advice. I can see many good and fine things in him. He has a little boy and thinks the world of him and makes a very good father to him. Do you think I should give him up? It would matter a lot to both of us. I know he cares a lot for me and he never goes anywhere without anyone but me. He has shown me in many ways that he cares for me and does many things that make me feel happy and not worried about going with him under the conditions. He says before long he must be the happiest man in the world, for then he can make me happy.

Do you think I should go with him or give him up to please my parents? His people like me very much. His will be hard for both of us to quit. Do you think people will talk about me for going with him? We are both highly respected young people and go with the best people in the young man's social circle in this city. Most of my friends like him very much and think I do no wrong by going with him, but others say I should not go with him, as he is married. He is almost the same as divorced, as he has not lived with her for two years. Kindly tell me what you think about it and tell me whether to quit and hurt him or love him.

People always talk about a girl who goes with a married man. Wait until his divorce is granted before accepting his serious attentions. The hint will have more respect for you if you do.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man nineteen and am engaged to be married in June. My fiancée is seventeen. Do you think a young man of my age should get married?

Yes. Both of you are too young to know your minds, and you are too young to face the heavy responsibilities of marriage. Put the wedding off a year and see how you feel about that time. You will still be too young.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Pimple Delusion.

I am greatly worried about my son, aged fifteen. His face is just covered with pimples. He has tried to bring him up and teach him how to wash, but this eruption is discouraging. Is there any way to save him?—writes a woman who wishes to be known as "Heartbroken Mother."

Answer—Foolish mother, say we. Why worry more over pimples than any other trifling ailment? The boy is all right. All he needs is a letter of suggestions—we have it. Send a stamped, addressed envelope.

Opals.

Opals are so sensitive that their beauty is frequently destroyed by their wearer's proximity to an open fire. The luster of this stone is caused by the presence of myriads of little fissures, which deflect the light into the characteristic prismatic color of the gem. The thinnest of these fissures is likely at any moment to destroy the stone.

CARE FOR SERBIAN CHILDREN ASSURED

French Republic and Other Nations Take Interest in the Children of the War Devastated Land.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Athens, Feb. 9.—Whatever the outcome of the war with respect to Serbia as a nation, the future generation of Serbians is assured. Not only have numbers of individuals interested themselves in the fate of the children of the war-devastated land, but the government of the French Republic has constituted itself the guardian of every Serbian child in need, and offered to provide for the bringing up and education of the race that has so valiantly defended its national heritage to the bitter end. Already several hundred of orphan Serbian children have been sent from Salonki to France, where they have been placed in French families that have volunteered to look after them.

At the same time, Madame Grouitch, the American friend of the Serbian cause, has established a fund in the hands of Constantine Mela, of Athens, by which a fund is paid for the support of the needy and orphaned children, and the functions of the Serbian government.

Very often, she explained to the Associated Press representative, the families of these children suffer more than those of the poor. Those who have never had much soon adjust themselves to the hardships that have accompanied this war. But those who have had everything and lost it all that are to be pitied.

Mrs. Grouitch should know whereof she speaks, for she and her husband left Serbia when they were forced to make their way through Albania, and they arrived in Athens only with what they stood in.

In addition to these provisions for the larger children, the babies and toddlers of people of this class suffer more than those of the poor. Those who have never had much soon adjust themselves to the hardships that have accompanied this war. But those who have had everything and lost it all that are to be pitied.

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

LETTING HIM ALONE.

The power of the quality of elusiveness to make a woman more attractive in courtship days is universally recognized.

It is by nature a hunter. He loves to pursue. Every woman who knows anything about the art of charming a man knows that.

Now is marriage bad for the memory? If not, why is it that the average woman forgets this fact just as soon as she is married and practices just the opposite tactics?

Perhaps you think I am foolish not to recognize that marriage has a very different state from courtship, and that it would be impossible for a woman living in the house with a man and sharing his daily existence to remain the elusive creature she was when he was courting her.

No, I don't forget that, but I don't think she needs to go to the opposite extreme.

She Even Asks Him What He Is Thinking About.

Let me tell you about one young married woman who tries to be so virtuous to which I am objecting. She is very fond of her husband and her fondness shows itself in this way: she simply can't let him alone for a minute. I don't know how she does when they are by themselves, but when they are with intimate friends she is always straightening his tie, adjusting his coat, or going over to sit on the arm of his chair.

When he reads, she asks him what he is reading about; when he is silent, she asks him what he is thinking of. She goes on everything without her when they had been married three years I heard her declare that she had never been away from home a single night.

Her Husband Seems A Little Bored. Now, of course I may be mistaken, but it does seem to me that there is a certain boredom in her husband's manner sometimes, a rather forced tenderness in the way he receives some of her onslaughts of affection. I don't doubt that he loves her, but I do think his love would flourish a little more in a freer atmosphere. He needs to be let alone more.

Restraint is one of the qualities absolutely necessary to art. It is equally necessary to the art of living. If this woman, and all like her, would practice a little more restraint, be a little less omnipresent, a little less exacting, affectionate, a little more self-dependent if they would retire now and then into the castle of their own personalities and permit their hands to do likewise, I am sure there would be less strain on the tie that binds them together.

Friends Can't Always Remain Friends In The Same House.

I have known several cases in my life in which friends decided to try living together and in each case the friendship cooled. And yet we wonder that husbands and wives are not always able to keep their friendship for each other.

This shutting one's self away from the world with one companion is a difficult business. It needs infinite tact and tolerance and restraint. Each should be able to respect the other's mood and if it is a mood of aloofness to withdraw into one's self without hurt or resentment.

Thomas Browne's advice, "Be able to be alone" is excellent. "Be able to let others alone," is an equally valuable supplement, especially for married folks.

DO LABORIOUS WORK IN MANY OCCUPATIONS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Vienna, Feb. 9.—Not a week passes in Austria without women appearing in some new occupation. Women teamsters are now to be seen on the streets, often performing laborious work. The big dairies are employing them to deliver milk to the branches, and they are also driving ice wagons. A chocolate factory is sending out nearly uniformed women wagon drivers. Business motor wagons are being driven by women chauffeurs.

In the big petroleum works women are doing all kinds of work, filling cans, loading them on the wagons, and delivering the cans at the houses, and collecting the bills.

Beef Steaks Smothered in Tomatoes.

Some day when the oven is being used for other cooking plan to have for dinner round or planked steak cooked with tomatoes, and for this dish either fresh or canned ones can be utilized. Place the steak in a slightly greased baking pan which has a close fitting cover. Cover it with tomatoes, sliced if fresh or just turned out of the can if canned. Add also one small onion, coarsely chopped and a small piece of bay leaf, together with salt and pepper. Cover the whole closely and cook for an hour and a half without removing the cover of the baking dish. Add no water, as the tomatoes are moist enough.—Philadelphia Ledger.

RATS USED FOR FOOD FOR ANIMALS IN ZOO

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 9.—Rats are being bred for the Budapest Zoo in order to save the scant ration of horsefeed for the lions and tigers, whose constant roaring shows the extent of their hunger. The zoo is in general and the wild birds are fed exclusively on rats. At times when horsefeed has been unobtainable, goats and the less valuable animals have been sacrificed to save the lives of the beasts that once ruled the jungle.

But the herbivorous animals have also gone through hard times, as wild cheetahs have been substituted for expensive hay. They have small things for chestnuts. A herd of ten seals had to be killed, as no fish could be obtained for them. The seal meat went to feed the wild birds. Two polar bears were shot—one because he refused to eat war food and the other because he grew so weak on the new diet it was deemed a mercy to finish him off. The skins added to the zoo's revenue in another way as the privilege of shooting them was auctioned off to local sportsmen, one of whom paid $60 for the honor.

THE TABLE.

"Very Good." Pudding—Line deep baking dish with a good pie crust. Spread a layer of about one-half inch (thick of well-sweetened blackberry sauce over the bottom of inside of crust. Cut thin slices of bread and butter lightly and lay evenly over the sauce. Cover slices with a generous layer of sweetened apple sauce. Place dish in moderately quick oven and let one egg light brown on top. Then beat two eggs with white sugar and four spoons of sweet milk. Four this over top of pudding and let it remain in oven until it is a rich, golden brown. Serve with sweetened cream.

Cream of Chicken Soup—One-quarter pound soft American cheese, one teaspoonful onion juice, one quart milk, yolks of two eggs, one tablespoonful butter, one tablespoonful flour, one-half teaspoonful salt, a dash of cayenne. Put the milk in a double boiler and add the cheese, grated, the salt, cayenne and onion juice. Rub the batter and flour together; add it to the cheese mixture, stir and cook until you have a smooth, rather thick soup. Beat the yolks of the eggs; add them two or three tablespoonfuls of soup and pour into the tureen. Put in cubes of toasted bread. This soup is highly nutritious, having more than meat value. It is an excellent lunch for children, and a drink and with white wine and butter forms an excellent meal.

Finnan Haddie—One finnan haddie; butter, four tablespoonfuls; four, four (tablespoons); salt, one-half teaspoon; pepper, one-half teaspoon; milk, two cups. Select a thick fish. Put flesh side down in a spider, cover with cold water or milk and set over very slow fire, where it must not cook, but just heat through for half an hour. Now heat to simmering and drain. Simmer five minutes and drain. Separate fish into flakes, discarding skin and bones. For each cup of fish and bones, add a cup of milk, a cup of butter and four together in the spider and gradually adding the milk and seasoning. Re-heat fish in the sauce until buttered. Baking dish in alternate layers, having the last layer of sauce and sprinkling with bread crumbs, bits of butter and grated cheese. Brown in hot oven.

Baked Breaded Veal With Bacon—Cut meat into pieces, dip in beaten egg and bread crumbs. Grease well a shallow tin pan or baking dish, lay in meat and put thin slices of bacon all over the top. Cook in oven about thirty minutes; when bacon becomes brown too fast, push it off the top and let meat brown, but not get hard.

Chicken Veal—Have veal stripped from the shank and cut in pieces large enough to serve. Boil in salt and fry same chicken desired, cooked peas may be heated and skillets after the meat has been taken

Vanilla Sauce

Boil 2 cups of sugar and a cup of water five minutes; add 2 tablespoonfuls of butter and a teaspoonful of vanilla extract.

Marble Pudding

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

2 cups sifted pastry flour; 2 level teaspoonfuls K. C. Baking Powder; 1 level teaspoonful cinnamon; 2 teaspoonful salt; yolks of 3 eggs, beaten light; 1 cup sugar; 4 tablespoonfuls melted butter; 1 cup cold water; whites of 2 eggs, beaten dry; 1/4 ounces melted chocolate.

Sift together, three times, the flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. To the yolks add the sugar, butter and water, and stir into the dry ingredients. Add the whites of the eggs. Divide the mixture into two parts and add the chocolate to one part. Dispose the two parts in a buttered mold.

Prepare a marble appearance. Steam forty-five minutes.

JOIN ASSOCIATIONS FOR ATHLETIC WORK

National Y. M. C. A. Officials Have Novel Plan to Accomplish Greater Results in Athletics

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, Feb. 9.—Because the officials believe in "the ethical value of boy-and-girl comradeship in sports and athletics," the National Y. M. C. A. and the National Y. W. C. A. are considering a co-operative and comprehensive system of physical culture in which boys and girls will have an equal share. This was announced here by the National Y. W. C. A. today. The plan has not been definitely settled upon yet, but is being considered by representatives of both organizations.

"The girl who can paddle a canoe, win a tennis match, bowl, skate, play basketball or do a hundred and one other physical stunts, works harder, plays fairer and is more help to her family, her friends, her employer and her community than her sister who is settled upon her heels, with any of the all-year-around activities of recreation and sport life."

Promotion of physical education and recreation among American girls is the undertaking of Dr. Anna L. Brown, Secretary for Hygiene and Physical Education of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association, who made the foregoing statement to the United Press today. Dr. Brown believes standards of efficiency for women should be based upon an understanding of how to conserve and develop physical power.

"My work," continued Dr. Brown, "is to popularize physical education as the foundation of health and happiness in the lives of girls and women. There are thousands and thousands of girls in my classes all over the country. The registration in 1914 showed an increase of 18,000."

"Health and safety is the slogan that is fast making the swimming pool rival of the gymnasium in the favor of young women everywhere. Then there are the summer camps, which are bringing girls the outdoor joys and privileges their more fortunate brothers have had for years. The military games, hikes and co-operative spirit games, hikes and character-building during the summer months are the games and athletics of the winter season."

"Widespread attention has been focused on the need of emphasizing good posture as fundamental to health and a great aid in promoting cheerfulness of spirit, capacity for work and powers of endurance.

To conserve and develop physical powers the gymnasium and swimming pool is being used to correct defects and deformities under medical supervision, to develop weak muscles and strengthen other organs; to develop perfect co-ordination, to reinforce health and make casual ailments unimportant, to provide recreation and create happiness in the use of the body in athletics and games of prowess and skill.

"All activities, social or physical, should be based upon practical hygiene, in dress, diet, care of the person, exercise and rest. We hope soon to be able to outline true types of physical training for women adapted to age, occupation and living conditions; and underlying these to develop a well defined code on the ethical use of physical powers and the responsibility of all women to their physical and spiritual efficiency. Only under such practical conditions can they give their best efforts to any activity."

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR C. E. LEAK RESIGNS

Director of Physical Work at Association Hands Resignation to Board of Directors.

C. E. Leak, who has been the physical director of the local Young Men's Christian Association for the past year and a half, has handed in his resignation to the board of directors. It will take effect at a date not later than May first. Mr. Leak's resignation comes as a surprise to every one, and all regret that he is to leave. The reason, it is rumored, is that he has a better offer in view. He will continue in association work for which he is well fitted.

Mr. Leak came to the local association in September, 1914, after spending two years in active association work in his home town of Brainerd, Minnesota. His work here has been very successful, as he has built up large classes in gymnasium work. No arrangements have been made yet to secure a new director, but probably Leo Douglas, who is acting as assistant now, will take charge of the work until next fall.

"Y" IN GAME WITH LAKE GENEVA FIVE

Two Games Will Be Played at "Y" Gymnasium Tonight at Eight O'clock.

To avenge the defeat received at Lake Geneva will be in the minds of every Y. M. C. A. player tonight in a game with the Lake City team at the local gym. The Geneva five comes here tonight for a return game, as the locals went to their town a few weeks ago. The strongest lineup obtainable will be in for the "Y" five and a victory will be assured. Douglas, the assistant physical director, will play one of the forward positions with Reno Koch, French at center, and Booth and Stewart in the guarding places. As a preliminary game, at eight o'clock, the girls' teams from the Methodist and Baptist churches will play. On last New Year's day these two naves played a tie game and the contest tonight will be very spirited.

BREAK ALL RECORDS IN SIX DAYS' RACE

Winning Team Covers 1,542 Miles in 72 Hours—Average Time 21.04 Miles An Hour.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Figures made public today showed that competitors in the international six day bicycle race which closed last night, broke all records for the seventy-two hours riding. The McNamara-Spears team, winners of the race, covered 1,542 miles in seventy-two hours. The former record for that time was 1,487 miles, made in a race where riders rode twenty-four hours at a stretch instead of twelve, as in the Chicago competition. The average time of the winners of the Chicago grind, was 21.04 miles per hour.

DRAW DECISION FOR BANTAM TITLE BOUT

Kid Williams Holds Championship After Twenty Rounds of Hard Milling at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Feb. 9.—Referee W. H. Rocap pronounced the bout between Kid Williams, champion bantam weight of the world, and Kid Herman a draw, after twenty rounds of sensational milling. New Orleans fight fans declare that Herman defeated the champion on points and the decision proved unpopular with the majority of the eight thousand spectators who witnessed the bout. Williams fought on the aggressive and, at times, gave the challenger a terrible beating with his stiff body punches. Herman showed great ability on the defense and several times had the champion in a bad way from hard punches, but he failed to follow up his advantage.

Dillon Is Winner.
New York, Feb. 9.—John Dillon did not live up to his reputation of being the "man killer" in his round going against Butling evinsky at the Broadway Sporting club of Brooklyn last night. Dillon by his rip tearing style managed to earn the verdict, but Levin's awkward defense kept him out of danger of a knockout.

Dillon had a clear lead in six rounds. The batter had a shade in two and the others were about even. Whenever Dillon threatened to put over a finish, the punch Levin's ran into a clinch and held on until pried apart by the referee.

GUS CHRISTIE BATTLES JEFF SMITH AT FONDY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Fond du Lac, Feb. 9.—Gus Christie, the Milwaukee middleweight, will meet Jeff Smith middleweight, in a ten round bout here tonight. The bout which will be the most pretentious Fond du Lac has ever had an opportunity of witnessing this season, is being conducted by Jack Brunkhorst.

Swarthmore has beaten Penn again in basketball. Turning the trick is no new experience for Swarthmore. The "little Quakers" have won seven out of their last eight games from the "big Quakers" on the latter's floor. Captain Seelbach's team broke the long string of victories in 1916.

CUBS AND WHALES COMBINED TO MAKE FINE TEAM FOR CHICAGO

Left, Leslie Mann (top) and Heinie Zimmerman; center, Jim Vaughn; right, Schulte. Joe Tinker, new manager of the Chicago Cubs, plans to make a winning organization out of the Cubs and ex-Whales now at his disposal. Among the men he counts on to make a fine machine are Pitcher Jim Vaughn, Infielder Zimmerman and Outfielders Schulte and Mann.

Sport Snap Shots

MORRIS MILLER

A statistician supplies the information that 843 lives were sacrificed on the fields of sport during the last ten years. Not a great many considering the number engaged. Baseball, which thousands and thousands play, heads the list with 284 fatal files. Football is second with 215.

auto racing third with 128, and boxing fourth with 105. In this time 27 cyclists were killed and 54 lost their lives at horse racing. Of the strenuous games, wrestling has the best record, only 15 perishing on the mat. One of the surprising facts is that 14 persons should lose their lives playing golf in ten years. Nine were killed at bowling, out only one at lawn tennis.

Benny Kauff says if he doesn't come to an agreement with the Giants soon he will quit baseball and handle his mining interests in Pennsylvania. We just bet he would not take his pick if given his choice.

Harry Payne Whitney received a check from the Louisville jockey club for $11,500 last May when his horse Regret won the Kentucky derby. The check didn't return in the usual course of business, so the bank made inquiry and found Whitney had forgotten to cash it.

Old Nap Rucker rises to remark that he is far from being ready to end his services as pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers. He says his soup bone is better than ever and that he'll win twenty-five games this year.

The disposing of half a dozen playing stars wasn't the only blow the Athletics received last season. The grim reaper was hard on Connie Mack's team, too. Louis Van Zandt, little hunchback mascot; Sam Erwin, veteran first baseman who went on all training trips and managed the Yankigans on exhibition jaunts; Dr. Isaac Brown, club physician, and Joe Schroeder, groundskeeper for the club since the league was founded, died during the year.

Although the chances are that there will be no new owners for the Cleveland Indians and there apparently are none in sight—the training plans for the coming spring are going merrily on. Vice President Barnard has practically completed his arrangements for the training trip. He has a list of thirty players who are slated to leave some time late in February. Manager Lee Fohl already has arranged to take the pitchers and catchers to New Orleans February 18 in order to give them a good start and have them ready by the time the regular players get there. Charley Somers is not taking any part in the team's training plans. He has been notified that he is to be retained as head of the club, but that undoubtedly is what is going to happen within a few weeks, for there is not a possibility in view of any one paying the price the bankers' committee demands for the club.

DATE FOR BIG BOUT IS ON MARCH EIGHTH

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
New York, Feb. 9.—Jess Willard, world's heavyweight champion, and Frank Moran will meet in a ten round bout at Madison Square Garden here on March 8th, for a purse of $70,000. It was announced Tuesday by Promoter Tex Rickard.

The date originally selected was March 17, but it was changed because Madison Square Garden, the only available place for holding the match, had been previously engaged for that date. Rickard said that the board of directors of the garden had agreed to accept $7,500 for its use with no percentage.

While a tentative agreement already had been signed for the bout between Tom Jones, manager for Willard, and Ike Dorgan, representing Moran, Rickard announced that Jones and Dorgan would meet again tomorrow to sign final articles.

Cigarettes

are wide-open for comparison with any cigarette at any price! Most sensitive smokers appreciate the pleasure Camel quality offers. They prefer it to premiums or coupons! Freedom from tongue-bite and throat-parch is as welcome as is the absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste!

Camels are blended choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos; you'll prefer their new flavor and mild-smoothness to either kind of tobacco smoked straight! That desirable, satisfying "body" is all there—without any come-back! No matter how many you smoke!

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 20 for 10c; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine paper-covered carton for $1.00. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

lyn Dodgers. He says his soup bone is better than ever and that he'll win twenty-five games this year.

The disposing of half a dozen playing stars wasn't the only blow the Athletics received last season. The grim reaper was hard on Connie Mack's team, too. Louis Van Zandt, little hunchback mascot; Sam Erwin, veteran first baseman who went on all training trips and managed the Yankigans on exhibition jaunts; Dr. Isaac Brown, club physician, and Joe Schroeder, groundskeeper for the club since the league was founded, died during the year.

Although the chances are that there will be no new owners for the Cleveland Indians and there apparently are none in sight—the training plans for the coming spring are going merrily on. Vice President Barnard has practically completed his arrangements for the training trip. He has a list of thirty players who are slated to leave some time late in February. Manager Lee Fohl already has arranged to take the pitchers and catchers to New Orleans February 18 in order to give them a good start and have them ready by the time the regular players get there. Charley Somers is not taking any part in the team's training plans. He has been notified that he is to be retained as head of the club, but that undoubtedly is what is going to happen within a few weeks, for there is not a possibility in view of any one paying the price the bankers' committee demands for the club.

AMERICAN DOCTOR DOES GREAT WORK IN RUSSIAN ARMY

More Than Three Thousand Surgical Operations in Record Made by Dr. Hurd on Battlefield.

Petrograd, Feb. 9.—More than three thousand surgical operations, most of them close to the fighting line and with the roar of artillery in his ears, is the record of the American doctor, Dr. Eugene Hurd, until recently the only American surgeon at the front with the Russian forces. Dr. Hurd is chief surgeon in charge of the American Red Cross hospital, the "Grodno Nobility" Flying Column. He has the rank of colonel in the regular army. His physique—he stands six feet three inches in height and weighs 225 pounds—makes him a conspicuous figure, even among the big fellows of the Siberian corps among whom he works. He has acquired a reputation among the Russian soldiers for doing the impossible. A soldier returning from the hospital told his fellows that the "big American surgeon could take a hand that had been shot off, put it together and put it back on good as new."

Hurd has been reported several times killed, wounded or missing. He has made a number of hurried getaways, but he has always turned up with his outfit when the smoke cleared. His column was outfitted by the noble families of Grodno soon after the outbreak of the war. Then they looked about for a surgeon to the Russian army. About that time Hurd, who was in Seattle, was offering his services to Russia. Through the Russian consul in Seattle his offer was accepted and he sailed on November 28 for Vladivostok. He was at once sent to Grodno with a contract to serve during the term of the war. He believed he was giving his services gratis, but several months later, when he had time to have his contract translated, he found that he was to receive 400 roubles monthly.

A hurried exit was on the Grodno front. On the retreat of the Russian army last summer Hurd narrowly escaped an involuntary transfer of his activities to the German side. After a twenty-four stretch of hard work he was ordered to retire by night to Oran. At three o'clock in the morning he had reached an estate six miles from that point and there he decided to rest until daylight. When preparing to resume his journey the following he found the stable yard full of Russian cavalry horses, some of them wounded. A Russian soldier informed him that Oran had been captured by the Germans early in the morning and that they were approaching less than two miles away. He made a hurried exit toward the south and dunes where Napoleon lost his transports on the retreat from Moscow. Until four o'clock in the afternoon when he reached a Russian position he was between the hostile lines, uncertain of the location of either army. At another time the German cavalry broke through the Russian lines before Hurd was aware of the fact and had cut his field telephone. They passed his operating base, evidently believing his capture assured on their return. But the American doctor had harnessed his horses and with his operating force made a break for the retreating Russian army. The Germans turned a battery on him and with shells bursting all around him he galloped over the crest of a hill and eventually made his way to safety.

Dr. Hurd works customarily about a mile back of the trenches in line with the light artillery and in front of and under the heavy batteries. He believes the Russian soldier to be the best in the world," he said on a brief absence from the front in more than a year. "The Russian is a fatalist, is absolutely fearless, willing to attack under any conditions, and is an expert weapon. I am convinced that the Germans lost twenty men to our one on the retreat last summer."

A new form of trench bomb, filled with an acid that will melt, is the last element that has been added to the effect is fatal if the fumes are inhaled and the least effect is to produce total and permanent blindness. These bombs are fired at close range and explode on contact. From one to seven men are affected when the explosion occurs among men unprotected by gas masks. Often the men have not time to adjust their respirators in time to escape.

A remarkable thing that I have observed is the number of cases of frozen feet among German prisoners, which have yet to treat the first Russian for that trouble. The reason is that the Germans wear close fitting boots, while the Russian wear large and in place of socks he winds his feet in yards of woolen cloth. The boots are water-tight. One seldom finds a Russian soldier with wet feet. Another thing: the Russian trenches are deep enough and wide enough that the men can stand and move about. "Trench-foot" due to cramped positions and impaired circulation, is unknown among our soldiers."

"I insist upon rigid discipline in my corps of assistants, and through system of packing and handling which I have devised, I can break camp and move on the march in ten minutes, or I can unlimber and break camp in ten minutes upon arrival."

The only other American surgeon at the Russian front is Malcolm Grow, recently made surgeon of the Twenty-first Flying column with another Siberian corps.

For Tired Women

With Aching Heads

"They help me so much and I find relief as soon as I begin taking your Foley Kidney Pills," says Frank P. Wood, Morrill, Maine. "I was a nervous wreck, my nerves were all out of order. Sometimes it seems as if you can't stand the pain across your back. It is just making you all energy and strength. When you are constantly tired, head aches, aching, nervous, on edge, kidney action painful and burning, there is the time to start in at once on Foley Kidney Pills. They strengthen the weak, ailing kidneys, improve their action, enable them to throw off the poisons that cause your troubles. Your nerves grow peaceful, sleep becomes sounder, nervousness disappears. As Mrs. Wood says, 'I am over seventy years old. I begin to take your Foley Kidney Pills. I am sure you get the genuine Foley Kidney Pills for they are purely medicinal and contain no harmful drugs, and contain no' W. T. SHERER.

An Old Story of 50 Years Ago

THE life story (here told only in brief form) of the Rev. Father John O'Brien, who came to Lowell, Mass., in 1848, to take charge of St. Patrick's Parish, is a record of loving self-sacrifice and service to humanity.

For such a spirit there is always work, never any time for self, always time for service to others. Duties pressed one upon another, and only his earnestness and noble spirit enabled him to bear up under the great responsibility he left.

Father John, as he was affectionately known to his people, was born in Ireland, ordained to the priesthood there in 1828, and came to America in 1841 to take charge of a large missionary field in Martinsburg, West Virginia.

For seven years Father John traversed the hills and mountains, through rain and shine, heat and cold, visiting the sick and afflicted, cheering and encouraging the unfortunate.

In 1848 Father John came to Lowell, Mass., to take up his labors in St. Patrick's Parish, which in those early days included many miles of the thinly settled territory round about. Under his direction and by his splendid energy, schools and a hospital were established. It was at his suggestion and through his energetic work that the rebuilding of St. Patrick's Church was begun and completed. As he had done in Virginia, so in the more rigorous New England climate, Father John exposed himself to all kinds of weather in his work for his people.

Soon after the dedication of St. Patrick's Church, in 1854, Father John's cares and burdens began to wear him down. His years of devotion to duty had left him weak and feeble. He was attacked with a serious cold, which developed into a stubborn cough and affliction of the lungs, which caused the greatest alarm for his health. Medical skill seemed unable to stay the disease for a time until his doctor gave him a prescription to relieve the cold and lung affliction and to build up and strengthen the body. Father John sent the prescription to the old drug store of Carleton & Hovey, where it was compounded on June 9, 1855. He began taking the medicine and showed prompt improvement. The soothing, healing elements of which the medicine was composed gave him his old-time vigor, and his wonderful recovery was the one thing talked of, for he was loved and admired by all, regardless of race, creed or class. In the homes of his parishioners Father John's visits were again enjoyed, and there he would tell how he had been restored to health and strength, how the medicine he had taken had made him as strong and rugged as ever, had built up his entire system and given him new life and energy. When he visited the sick and ailing he recommended the medicine that had done him so much good.

The prescription was on file in Prescription Book IX, at the old drug store of Carleton & Hovey.

Those whom the clergyman advised to take it always came to the drug store and asked for "Father John's" medicine, and so it was named by the people, and advertised, all with the approval of the prescriber.

Because they saw the results which the medicine gave, many doctors have prescribed and recommended Father John's Medicine, and it is today in use in many institutions, hospitals and children's homes from one end of the country to the other.

The faith of the people in this valuable prescription grew stronger from year to year because of the character of the results which it gave, a faith that was further strengthened because Father John's Medicine is endorsed by hospitals, by the clergy and institutions wherever it is used, and by thousands who know its value by actual trial.

MAY BUILD A DIKE ALONG TURTLE CREEK

Beloit Common Council Considers Proposition as a Precaution Against Spring Floods.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Beloit, Feb. 9.—The business district of Beloit has been threatened on two sides by floods during the last two weeks. The city council last night took steps to cut out the danger on one side by considering a resolution providing for a dike on the west bank of Turtle Creek. If the present cold weather continues a few days longer, danger from the high water in Rock river on the other side of the city will be removed by the natural flow of water. The village of Afton, seven miles north of Beloit, still is in darkness as a result of backwater from the river.

GIVES FREE LODGING TO MANY THOUSANDS

Father Timothy Demsey Proves Great Social Worker in St. Louis Among the Workmen.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 9.—Father Timothy Demsey, priest, social worker, strike-arbitrator and friend of the poor and homeless, gave free lodging to 6,248 men at his hotel for workmen during the strike here last night. The hotel, which has just been made public, in addition the hotel received $16,585.86 during the year for "ten cent beds" and "nickel meals."

More than 100,000 men scattered to all parts of this country and others, have been guests of Father Demsey, for stopping at his hotel means being his personal guest. Father Demsey, in his nine years' Father Demsey has given free lodging to 88,562 men and has furnished 100,613 free meals. Employment was obtained for 6,881 guests in those nine years, fifty-nine were sent to hospitals for free treatment, the bodies of twenty who died at the hotel were buried—not in the paupers' field, but in the "Exiles Rest" of Calvary cemetery.

That in spite of all this charity, Father Demsey's hotel is almost self-supporting is indicated by the report which shows that of total receipts during 1915 of $21,865, more than $16,000 came from the nominal charges for guests. Private subscriptions help support the institution. Recently Father Demsey opened a hotel for workmen and a day nursery which are run on the same basis. Last year when a teamsters' strike here was at its height and seemed hopeless of settlement, Father Demsey quickly worked among the strikers and among the team owners and suddenly announced both sides ready for peace. A few days later the strike was settled to the satisfaction of both sides.

U. S. IRISH TO MEET IN NEW YORK CITY

Organizations Will Consider Vital Questions Regarding This Country and Ireland.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

A call was issued yesterday to the various organizations of Men and Women of the Irish Race in America, asking that delegates be appointed to meet at a National Convention to be held at the Hotel Astor, Forty-fourth street and Broadway, New York City, on March 4 and 5.

The circular calling the convention states that for many months past appeals have come from Ireland and from all parts of the United States asking that a national gathering of Americans of Irish blood should be held to consider the existing problems and to take effective steps towards their solution.

(1) How best the Irish race should act in America, so that the teaching and practices of Washington and Jefferson, of Jackson and of Lincoln may continue to prevail in this country.

(2) How best to preserve for Ireland the remnant of her manhood.

(3) How best to combat the influences which misrepresent America to Ireland and Ireland to America.

(4) How best to act so that at the Congress of the Nations to be held at the end of the war, the legitimate claims of Ireland may receive the fullest measure of consideration, so that after her age-long sufferings Ireland may again take her place among the nations of the world.

Attached to the call for the convention are the names of 500 representative Irish-Americans, including Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet, the Irishman of the great Irish patriots Robert Emmet and Thomas Addis Emmet; Hon. John W. Goff, Justice Supreme Court, New York; Justice Edward J. Gavan, Supreme Court, New York; Justice Daniel F. Callahan, Supreme Court, New York; President Flenchly Sons of St. Patrick; Joseph McLaughlin, National President, Ancient Order of Hibernians; Ellen Ryan Jolly, National President Ladies' Branch, A. O. H.; Rt. Rev. Msgr. John T. Ryan, Bishop of John Canvass, President Notre Dame University; Rev. P. C. York, St. Francis; Dr. Carroll, former Mayor of Syracuse; Dr. Morrissey, of Philadelphia, and A. L. Land, of Santa Fe, New Mexico, who were very prominent in the Irish Land League under Parnell and Davitt; Humphrey O'Sullivan, Lowell, Mass.; John T. Ryan, Buffalo; Judge Jeremiah J. Lynch, Butte, Montana.

STUDENTS AT BELOIT OPPOSE COMPULSORY VESPER ATTENDANCE

Referendum Vote on Sunday Chapel Attendance Announced—Religious Education Question Again Brought Up.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Beloit, Feb. 9.—Beloit college students want the Sunday vesper service with Freshmen Bible classes Archbishop Messenger of Milwaukee prescribes for Catholic students, made voluntary. They expressed that sentiment by a large majority at a referendum, the vote from which was suppressed until editors of the Round Table, the student publication, made it known Wednesday noon.

The student council submitted the following questions to vote of the students: "Would you favor changing the hour for Sunday services from 4:30 o'clock to 9:15 o'clock, a. m., to 11 o'clock? Would you favor making it voluntary?"

Co-votes for Compulsion.

Few voted on the first two questions. A large majority voted "Yes," on the last. The co-votes were the only service as compulsory. By a tacit understanding none of the Catholic students participated in the referendum. This student sentiment will be submitted to the board of trustees when he returns from his tour of duty several months' duration about March 10. Since it was President Eaton who introduced the vesper service into the college routine, it is thought that the student opinion will not affect much.

Some members of the faculty object to the referendum, saying the student council has no right to legislate upon such a matter which they assert is purely administrative.

President Eaton also will be greeted when he returns by petitions signed by hundreds of protestants of Beloit expressing the belief that the college should "stand firm on what the nations of the world have been its platform of compulsory religious education."

Urges College to Take Stand.

The Rev. Dr. L. J. of the First Methodist church, which has more than nine hundred members, gave public expression of this move on the part of citizens, when he declared in a recent sermon that "Beloit's religious rating," that when the college comes out on a platform of common interest with the common people of the city, the people will work toward the accomplishment of the greatest destiny of the college. But the citizens are unanimous that the college should stand on a set policy no matter who objects to it.

First and Second Thoughts. In matters of conscience first thoughts are best; in matters of prudence last thoughts are best.

INCOME ASSESSORS GET QUITE EFFICIENT

Speaker at Madison Meeting Discusses Personal Tax Says Men Now Getting at True Values.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—In discussing the personal property tax before the meeting of assessors of incomes in session in the senate chamber here today, H. V. Cowles said that in 1911 fifty-four of the counties of the state were assessed under 65 per cent of true value and in 1915 only two counties. Mr. Cowles declared that many improvements in the assessments had been made. By a chart he showed that in 1911 no county in the state was assessed over 50 per cent of its true value, while today eighteen were assessed above that amount.

The rank of each county in the ratio of assessed to true value was shown by means of large maps. The state's assessed counties of 1915 were shown in the map, and since the estimate of 1910 was made, it is an advance of $27.50 over the figures of five years ago, 1910, when the estimated value was figured at $93.

The 1915 figures are a gain of fifty dollars, for the exact forty-nine dollars and fifty cents, for a period of ten years, and since the estimate of 1910 was made.

The report, which is based on land sales compiled by the Wisconsin tax commission, follows:

TEN CHILDREN KILLED BY EXPLOSION OF BOMB THEY FIND ON STREET

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Amsterdam, Feb. 9.—Ten children are reported to have been killed by an aeroplane bomb explosion at Cologne. The youngsters were playing in a ditch near the flying ground when they unearthed the bomb from a rubbish heap. A sentry nearby shouted to the children to get away, but one of the boys picked the thing up and threw it at the man. The bomb burst inflicting mortal injuries upon all the children but the sentry was not hurt.

True and Full of Human Interest Everybody Should Read It

"We are pleased to endorse Father John's Medicine, knowing of its merit and history."—Signed

Rev. Nathan W. Matthews, First Primitive Methodist Church, Lowell, Mass.; Rev. H. C. R. F. Hickey, Beachmont, Mass.; Rev. John Ernest Parker, New Baltimore, N. Y.; Rev. Joseph Foster, Lafargeville, N. Y., and many others.

Father John's Medicine is in use and prescribed at many hospitals, homes and charitable institutions. Among the many we have permission to refer to a few are given below: Asylum of St. Vincent de Paul, 215 West 30th St., New York; Sisters of St. Mary, New York; Sisters of Notre Dame de Lourdes Hospital, Manchester, N. H.; The Ursuline Sisters, Ursuline Convent, Waterville, Me.; Sisters of Mercy, Joseph's Hospital, New Bedford, Mass.; St. Philip's Home for Invalids, Boston; Children's Home, Lowell, Mass.; Sisters of St. Mary, Massillon, Que.; St. Patrick's Hospital, Manchester, N. H., and many others.

These endorsements have been given voluntarily and are used with the full knowledge and consent of the authors. We have many others, the names of which we shall be pleased to furnish upon application.

Nothing can be added to these strong endorsements—praise given because of their knowledge and faith in its merit, and an earnest desire to have others benefit by its wonderful power.

You have read of its history and fifty years of success, during which time it has proved a great blessing to mankind. Permit us now to tell you of its value.

It is an old-fashioned family remedy—not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the learned doctor who was consulted when the case of the late Rev. Father O'Brien did not yield to the customary treatment. It is free from alcohol, opium, morphine, cocaine, or poisonous drugs in any form which are found in many of the patent medicines; it contains no alcohol or other stimulants. It is a Food Medicine, pure and wholesome. It is invaluable as a tonic and body builder and restores weak and run-down systems to health and strength. It nourishes the system and makes flesh.

Right here we want to warn you against the danger in taking patent medicines which rely wholly on stimulating or nerve-deadening drugs for their effect. They weaken the system and leave you exposed to disease, cause nervous prostration and a craving for drugs; thousands of victims of the drug habit had the desire created by taking some patent medicines and many so-called "cough syrups" and "balsams." It is almost an impossibility to find a single preparation that does not contain poisonous drugs.

Father John's Medicine is a safe medicine for all the family; for the children as well as older people, because it does not contain alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form. In the treatment of colds, coughs, throat and lungs, and as a tonic and body builder it has had more than fifty years of success.

If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist, send $1.00 for a large size bottle, by express prepaid to any point in the United States. Address Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass.

STATE LAND VALUES DOUBLE IN A DECADE

Rapid Gains Shown in Figures Tabulated by Railroad Expert—Local Gain Excellent.

Figures of T. A. Polley, Chicago, a Chicago and Northwestern railway tax commissioner, say that the average estimated value of Wisconsin land per acre has almost doubled in the past ten years. The report estimated that the average value in 1905 was $32.75, in 1910, $65.25, and in 1915, $125.25.

It is noticeable from the figures of Mr. Polley that Rock county values have advanced with other county values of the state. The latest average per acre is $125.25 for 1915. This is an advance of $27.50 over the figures of five years ago, 1910, when the estimated value was figured at $93.

The 1915 figures are a gain of fifty dollars, for the exact forty-nine dollars and fifty cents, for a period of ten years, and since the estimate of 1910 was made.
